

INTERGRATED TRAINING FRAMEWORK (ITF)

ITF provides professional development courses based on the Coordinated Incident Management Systems (CIMS) for coordination center personnel.

It's part of a national framework of emergency management training specific to local level (EOC) and regional level (ECC) coordination center environments.

FOUNDATION:

A 4 hour classroom session which provides an introduction to emergency management

INTERMEDIATE:

An interactive two day workshop which provides an opportunity to apply previous training and focus on how CIMS is used in a coordination center. The workshop includes group activities and concludes with an exercise so you get a taste of the real thing.

FUNCTION:

These workshops follow on from the Intermediate Course and provide an opportunity to look at the roles and responsibilities for your specific function

TARANAKI CIVIL DEFENCE
EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

TARANAKI EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT TRAINING PROGRAM

Our training programme aims to support you in your role as a volunteer in the emergency management sector—whether you're a council or community volunteer in a coordination center, a civil defence center or in the field.

TRAINING COURSES

Most of our training is administered through our learning portal Takatu (see overleaf). We also have external providers run a selection of courses tailored to emergency management.

Courses range from half a day through to two full days for the more detailed subjects. Courses run by our local CDEM facilitators as part of the Ministry of Civil Defence Emergency Management (MCDEM) Integrated Training Framework (ITF) program (see overleaf).

EXERCISING

We exercise using scenarios to practice what we have learnt in courses a from real life events. These exercising sessions are being developed and once in place, you will be invited to attend. This will provide an opportunity to test the skills you have learned through CDEM.
